4-Day Week Urged for Nation

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The steelworkers' union president, I.W. Abel, today urged an all-out labor campaign for a four-day week, declaring that automation will soon threaten the jobs of millions of Americans.

Industry already has the know-how to replace assembly line workers with computers and the next economic downturn could permanently wipe out jobs on a massive scale, Abel said.

"I would suggest that we strive for a work week of four days with work-free weekends of three days," Abel told a convention of the Jaff-CIO's Industrial Union Department. "Fantastic Rate"

He said that if the labor movement gives it top priority, it can win the shorter work week in four years with no cut in pay by bargaining with industry and lobbying in Congress.

Sweeping Liberalization

McGovern Wins His Battle For Food Stamp Extension

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a sweeping liberalization of the food stamp program that could end up fattening the liberal leadership position of George S. McGovern as much as the stomachs of the nation's poor.

In a major personal triumph for McGovern, the Senate voted 54-40 Wednesday to chuck the recommendations of its own Agriculture Committee and adopt proposals by the South Dakota Democrat aimed at making food stamps available to every poor person in the nation.

Then, ignoring conservative cries that it was creating a "monster" and signing the "death sentence" of food stamps, the Senate sent the proposals on to the House by a vote of 78-14.

What happens now is anybody's guess. The McGovern proposals go first to the House Agriculture Committee where Chairman W. R. Poage, D-Tex., harbors deep-seated hostility to such programs.

Every U.S. County Essentially, the McGovern amendment to the Food SKTAM Act would authorize $1.25 billion this year, $2 billion next year and $2.5 billion by fiscal 1972. It would make free stamps available to families with incomes under $60 a month, allow any family making less than $1,500 a year to buy them with only their signature attesting liberalization that drove him to bid the income, and set up machinery to force every county in the country to provide food stamps.

The administration proposals would have allowed free food stamps for families with an income of less than $30 a month, would have left it up to the states to continue certifying who could participate and would have moved more slowly in direction of making stamps available to all.

The administration sought to allow families up to $100 a month in food stamps while McGovern proposals allow up to $125 a month.

Democrat Herman Talmage of Georgia branded the proposals a "monster" and said "the

Golda Meir Welcomed at White House

Israel's Premier Thanks U. S. for Continued Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon said today real peace in the Middle East will require that both sides have a vested interest in maintaining it.

How to accomplish this peace is the question, he said in formal ceremonies welcoming Israel's Prime Minister Golda Meir to the White House for two days of official talks.

Nixon commented that problems of the Middle East are "terribly complex and not susceptible to solution in one meeting, two meetings or three meetings."

Military Honors Mrs. Meir, wearing a simple beige suit, was given a 19-gun salute and full military honors upon her arrival on the south lawn of the White House.

Responding to the President's welcome, Mrs. Meir expressed confidence that peace will come to the Middle East.

"I look forward to the day when a prime minister of Israel will come here to herald a new epoch of peace and regional cooperation," she said.

She declared that the history of reborn Israel over the past two decades cannot be told "without reference to the unwavering support of America's governments and its people."

She made clear that she expected no less from her present visit.

The former Milwaukee school teacher who became leader of Israel last spring reportedly believes Middle East peace hopes lie in a strong Israeli military deterrent.

To that end she went into her scheduled meeting with Nixon today reported ready to ask for an additional 24 Phantom and 80 Skyhawk jet planes to bolster

The air attack was touched off by Air Cavalrymen out patrolling to disrupt enemy preparations for the new round of heavy attacks U.S. commanders anticipated.

Reward Enough for Teacher

All Her Music Pupils Are Stars

BY HAZEL THIEL
Post-Crescent Correspondent

FOREST JUNCTION — Not everyone can accomplish what Miss Virginia Krueger terms "every musician's dream to become a performer or concert artist," but it is obvious that all of her pupils are "stars" in the eyes of the attractive blonde woman.

Miss Krueger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Krueger, Forest Junction, has used her musical ability as an avocation as well as vocation during her 20-year career.

Her after-hour jobs have included directing church choirs at New Holstein, where she taught at the high school for three years after graduating from the University of Wisconsin, and in Oshkosh where she has been supervisor of general music, for the public school system, for the last 10 years.

In addition to her regularly scheduled supervisory work, Miss Krueger was director of the Rotary Y Choir for nine years. Well known for its "Happy Wanderer" opening song, the group made tours throughout the state as well as entertaining at many local events. Miss Krueger had many children from the same families in the choir and believes that "voices do run in families." She pointed out that voices from the same family "blend as no others can".

The talented woman is quick to point out that her work is with "voice." However, she learned to play piano at the age of six when she began her studies at

Bank Plans Doll Dressing Contest

NEW LONDON — First State Bank has announced it again will sponsor the "Dress-A-Doll" contest with the dolls being distributed to needy children during Christmas by the Salvation Army.

Dolls are made available to women in the New London area. The women then make clothes for the dolls and return them to the bank for judging.

After being displayed at the bank for a short time the dolls are given to the Salvation Army for distribution.

Contest categories are fancy dress, sensible dress, nationality costume, character costume and knit and crochet. Prizes are awarded to the best dressed doll in each category and to the best-dressed doll in the contest.

Lawrence University Conservatory, Appleton.

Performing for audiences always thrilled her as a child, and she recall her tap dancing day with amusement. She remembers entering talent shows in Calumet County, particularly one at the Sherwood Wide Awake 4-H picnic where she won "eight pounds of coffee, and that wasn't first prize," she laughed.

Loves Children

"When you get to college, you realize that not everyone can perform and that teaching, or some other musical career, is where everyone is going," Miss Krueger says. Enriching lives of children with music and song has been her pursuit.

Miss Krueger has a master's degree from Stanford University, Calif., and this week is returning there to work towards her Ph. D.

After saying good-bye to her Rotary Y choir in June, she worked with migrant children in southeastern Wisconsin on a pilot Title 1 project to enrich the lives of Mexican-American children, whose parents traverse the agricultural areas of the country in search of work.

"At first the children were very shy and withdrawn, but they respond as children everywhere, they just haven't had the background that those more fortunate have had," Miss Krueger says she began by teaching them music in their own Spanish language, then continued inspiring them to sing songs from other countries.

Music To Enjoy

Her object was to get them to enjoy and appreciate music and to use simple instruments. Percussion-type instruments were enjoyed by the children. Singing became a part of them in just a few short weeks. While this may sound unusual to average Americans, spontaneous singing often is not a part of the migrant's life, Miss Krueger points out.

Now, the diminutive woman will become a full-time student herself again. Most of all she will miss her contact with children, she admits. The topic for her doctorate dissertation is "Esthetic Response in Non-Verbal Communication."

Dreams of performing as a concert artist have faded, but enriching lives of others with simple music is obviously just as rewarding.

United Fund Drive Starts
New London Begins Campaign Monday At Legion Club

NEW LONDON — Materials will be distributed at the New London United Fund kick-off at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the American Legion Club.

Officers will meet with block workers to lay final plans for the annual fund raising campaign which begins in October.

James Mergy is president of the corporation and William Borchardt is the general campaign chairman. Borchardt last year headed the business and professional portion of the fund raising project.

Mrs. James Cristy has assumed the publicity duties from Mrs. Francis Werner, chairman, since the drive was reactivated six years ago.

Mergy said Monday's meeting would familiarize block workers with their roles and present various chairmen with materials and instructions. Refreshments will be served following the instructional session and a brief business meeting.

New London United Fund will be seeking to top its drive goal for the sixth consecutive year.

Sewage Chlorination Costs Set at $17,000 in Brillion

City to Buy New Plant Equipment

BRILLION — The chlorination of sewage plant effluent, which is one phase of the State Department of Natural Resource (DNR) three-step anti-pollution order, is expected to cost the city about $17,000, according to a report presented to the city council this week by McMahon Associates, Inc., Menasha engineering firm.

Bids will be opened Oct. 27 for the chlorinating apparatus which will handle double the current effluent output for future needs.

Also included in the $17,000 cost — up from $14,473 estimated a year ago by McMahon for the same equipment — are a 12 foot square building and a concrete tank capable of handling a flow of one million gallons per day.

It is estimated that the city's current flow will necessitate the use of 21 pounds of chlorine each day. This will tack a $3.35 daily cost onto the program.

State Board of Health and DNR approvals are needed before construction can begin, it was noted.

Police School

In other action attendance at a police officers' school was approved for John Hooper. The 330 hours of classes will be Oct. 20 to March 20 at the area vocational-technical school. Federal funds may finance half of the $950 fee, Mayor Clarence Wolf told aldermen.

The recent annexation of 380 acres to the city has caused school bus transportation problems. Gaylord Unbehauen, school superintendent told the city council. Part of the annexed area is rural and students from there are being bussed to school. Parents of some pupils in the annexed area closer to school are seeking transportation because of the lack of sidewalks in their area. Sidewalk construction in that area is not scheduled until expansion warrants it, Mayor Wolf explained.

Glen Campbell, director of public works, noted that water and sewer laterals should go into the annexed area before sidewalks. A contingent of property owners in the annexed area along State 114 attended the council session seeking information on when to expect sewer and water facilities.

Installations hinge somewhat on the proposed extension of Glenview Street through the area to meet the highway. The entire area will be engineered prior to an installation schedule being set up, the group was told.

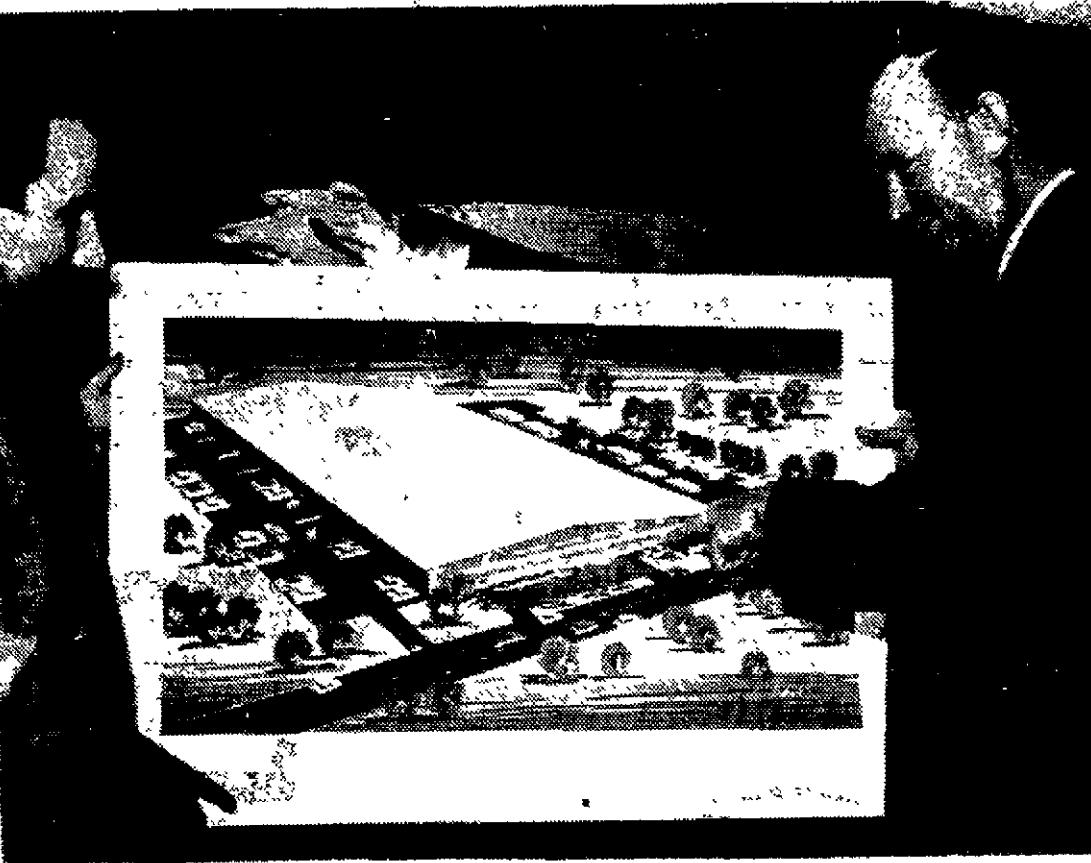

Property Options

The city is in the process of securing options from nine property owners involved in the extension of Glenview Avenue.

City and Town of Brillion officials will discuss the distribution of assets and liabilities pertaining to the annexed area at an 8 p.m. meeting Monday at the city hall.

The city's current $25.48 per $1,000 equalized value tax rate is the fourth lowest of the

County Boards Try Aid to Urban Areas

Committee Named to Work With Association, State Legislature

BY DON CASTONIA
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — Wisconsin's urban counties have taken a step toward making their problems better known, both within the Wisconsin County Boards Association and at the state legislative level.

An urban counties committee was named Tuesday by the association's president, State Sen. Myron Lotto of Green Bay. The move was the result of a meeting held Monday morning, prior to the start of the association's convention, of chairmen of most of the state's urban counties.

Named to the study committee were Richard Pire, Dane County; Earl Hollister, Kenosha

County; John Thomas, LaCrosse County; Norman Block, Marathon County; Sylvester Esler, Outagamie County; Eugene Grobschmidt, Milwaukee County, and Richard LaFave, Racine County.

Lotto said he would work with the committee as association president and would represent Brown County.

He said Winnebago County had been invited to Monday's meeting but they did not send a representative. He added that about 15 counties had been invited.

While the committee somewhat parallels the move taken by the state's larger cities in setting up the Alliance of Cities separate from the League of Municipalities, Lotto stressed they planned on working through the existing County Boards Association structure.

Emphasis, he said, would be in defining the problems which are unique to urban counties for the entire association and also to take a more active roll in state legislation.

It is seldom, Lotto said, that a representative from a county board appears before the Legislature.

At the same time, Lotto appointed a committee to study home rule and administrative aspects of county government.

Two members of the urban county committee, Thomas and LaFave, will serve on this committee along with Jerome Martin, Manitowoc County; Laurence Weber, Pierce County, and Raymond Schoephorster of Sauk County. Lloyd Owens, Waushara County, vice president of the association, will coordinate efforts of the committee.

Similar committees were named to study the welfare of the campaign, and his committee situation and the association's bylaws past several weeks preparing the governor's administrative for the 1969 drive. They are district plan will come under scrutiny from an eight-member their "fair share," pointing out committee — one from each of that this is the one campaign the proposed districts — who each year to benefit many will meet with the governor organizations in the area.

Between Waupaca, Amherst Junction

U.S. 10 Keeps Rural Charm

BY FERN SMITH
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

WAUPACA — Of special interest to residents and travelers during National Highway and Wonderful Wisconsin Week is the nearly completed 11.1-mile stretch of U. S. 10 between Waupaca and Amherst Junction. It will be ready for use on Oct. 15.

This highway project, which has been underway since last summer, relocated approximately 7 miles of the stretch and now provides a wide 24-foot ribbon of new safe highway, costing $2 million.

The eight inch, reinforced concrete begins approximately three miles northwest of the junction of U. S. 10, and State 54 and 22, on Waupaca's west side, by-passing Sheridan and Amherst to Amherst Junction.

Bridges Widened
The work includes new, thicker approaches to widen bridges across the Waupaca River and the same River when it becomes the Tomorrow in Portage County. There will be new shoulders and new approaches from the county trunks when the work is complete.

The grading contract cost $945,000 and began last year. It was done by Pagel Construction Co., Almond, according to Dick Manthe, project engineer.

The Mengel Construction Co., Wisconsin Rapids, had the $730,000 paving contract.

Beauty Preserved

"Not only has the pastoral beauty along this section of U. S. 10 been preserved, it has been enhanced in a number of ways," commented Warren Rhynas, chief construction engineer, as he conducted an informal tour of the project Tuesday.

At one spot along a new section the highway department is constructing a roadside park on the Tomorrow River, bounded on three sides by a loop of the stream and on the south by the highway. "It is one where we will need no fences," he said proudly, pointing to the well and comfort station already completed.

Of special interest will be the new section of highway which by-passes Amherst, and up the highway a little further the new bridge which passes over the Soo Line Railroad tracks. It is curved, both on the vertical and horizontal, fitting inconspicuously into the landscape.

Welfare Cuts May Benefit Rural Counties

New Subcommittee Investigates State's Flat Aids Program

MADISON (AP)—Many rural Wisconsin counties will actually receive more money under welfare "cutbacks" contained in the state's new $1.56 billion budget than they did before.

The fact was disclosed Tuesday during a conference between the secretary of the Department of Health and Social Services and a joint finance subcommittee.

Secretary Wilbur Schmidt agreed with the subcommittee that some other than the new flat aid system must be found to distribute funds to the state's more than 100,000 welfare cases.

The subcommittee was formed last week after many "welfare mothers" testifying at a public hearing on Gov. Warren P. Knowles' $33 million urban aid package said they were receiving huge cuts in their payments.

No Variations

Under flat aids, a fixed amount is provided for each welfare case in the state with no variations permitted.

Schmidt explained the flat aid, payments of $208 per month for a family of four was made necessary after the new budget went into effect.

A provision was contained in that budget which required the average state payment per recipient be lowered from 138 per cent of the national average to 120 per cent.

The average grant per recipient went from about $58 per person to about $51.

The change, Schmidt said, represents an "administrative nightmare." Under the old system, where each case was considered on its merits by county agencies, a wide variation between cases was common.

The result of switching to flat aids, he said, has been that some of the counties, particularly the rural ones with few cases, have actually received more money under the "cutback."

Second Vote Set on School Bond Proposal at Kaukauna

Fiscal Control Board Asked to Reapprove $1.8 Million Issue

KAUKAUNA — The vote on the $1.8 million school bond issue approved by the fiscal control board last Friday will have to be taken again at the Oct. 7 meeting of the common council, City Atty. Donald Green announced Wednesday.

The bonding would be used to construct a new northside elementary school, a four-classroom addition to Electa Quinney School, and to purchase property adjacent to the high school.

At the time of the original vote, Green informed the fiscal control board that it might be necessary to take a second vote as statutes governing the question are unclear.

He pointed out that the bonding consultants, Chapman and Cutler of Chicago, might insist the vote be taken at a regular common council meeting to avoid any complications in future bonding procedures.

Ask Second Vote

Green met with representatives of the consulting firm in Chicago Tuesday and although the firm agreed the Friday vote appeared to be legal, they felt a second vote should be taken to avoid any possibility of future complications through a difference in interpretation.

What Will the Communists' Do Nov. 8?

BY MARK OLIVA
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

OSHKOSH — The communists are planning something big in the United States for Nov. 8, "and you better prepare for it!"

Such is the word from Lola Belle Holmes, a negro member of the John Birch Society who identifies herself as a former undercover agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

She addressed the public at a meeting sponsored by the Oshkosh State University Young Republicans here Wednesday night.

Just what the communists plan to do, where it will happen or how to prepare for it was left up in the air by Miss Holmes.

After she issued her warning, a member of the audience asked her the "what and where" query and "how can I prepare for it?" but she dismissed her interrogation as "smart talk."

Miss Holmes' address dealt with the "success of the communist conspiracy in the United States today" and with "communism in the civil rights movement."

In the former respect, she not only told a questioner there may be "a communist under every carpet," but she also warned him "there may be one in your bathroom right now."

About civil rights, her theme moved between two focal points. "communist leadership of the black militant movement" and the late Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Of Dr. King, she said, "He never did anything for the negro people."

King Linked

"The communists dropped him on the toes of all the gains negroes had made over the years and then killed him off at the age 39."

She told the group the Civil Rights Act of 1965, "passed by the pro-communist Johnson administration," was written, with one exception, by the Communist Party during her period of party membership as an undercover agent from 1956 through 1963.

She also told a questioner she was not a paid informer for the FBI, but a paid agent, and that she had not been free to determine the nature of her work, because she was hired under a nine-year contract, of which she fulfilled six and one-half years. She did not answer why she was separated from FBI service two and a half years early.

Hostile Questions

Until the question and answer period Wednesday night, Miss Holmes met with no protest action from members of the audience, except for a number of sleeping listeners at the end of her 80-minute address.

During the question period, she met hostile questions from students in the audience with equally-hostile non-answers.

Miss Holmes will speak here again at 8 p.m. today, at the YMCA all-purpose room, sponsored by the Oshkosh Area TACT Committee.

Commission Makes Recommendations Long Range Park Plan Moves Ahead

A long-range park and recreation plan for Appleton has moved into final stages of preparation. The city plans and playgrounds, including school grounds that serve in- stead of neighborhood parks in addi- tion to the city by when population is expected to exceed 100,000 persons, are estimated at 1,053 acres.

Harland Bartholomew and Associates, St. Louis, recommending eight new neighborhood parks serving residents in a half-mile radius each, and three new community parks serving one-mile radius areas.

These are in addition to development of the Langedyke Park-school site on the north- east side, and include some facilities recommended for development in cooperation with other local units of government.

Robert Grossman, Chicago, presenting the report for the Bartholomew firm, said the city might be as much as $150,000 a year, according to the planners.

Buy in Advance

The planners stopped short of estimating actual costs of carrying out the program, due to rapid increases in land values. But because of rising costs, the planners recommend continuing to follow the policy used in purchasing the 105-acre Lange- dyke park and school site, buying it well in advance of the school site development began.

Other recommendations include continuation of the park-school concept in setting aside land for future neighborhood parks, with school grounds and recreation expenditures for purchase and development of new land and facilities.

The report states that at the level of present park and recreation budgeting, the 10 to 15 per cent figure would yield between $50,000 and $75,000 annually, under this concept. Two neighborhood parks on the south side, one in the southwest, two on the north side and three in the northwest park lands, total available funds are urged

Besides Langedyke, three other community parks averaging 100 acres each are suggested in the northwest area near Lynndale Avenue and Ballard Road; the southwest along the Fox River near Strobes Island, and the South on city-owned land near Hoover School.

In addition, the report favors development of the Center Swamp area as a regional park similar to the Plamann and Mosquito Hill parks operated by Outagamie County. The Center Swamp park, recently proposed by the Fox Valley Council of Governments, should contain a minimum of 400 acres, the planners said.

The recommendations also contain proposals for further development of water-oriented recreation potential in parks such as Lutz and Bellaire.

Air Wisconsin Asks Rates to Carry Mail

Air Wisconsin has petitioned (CAB) for the establishment of the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) for the establishment of rates for the carrying of air mail between two Indiana communities and Chicago and Detroit.

The Post Office Department has endorsed the proposal for Air Wisconsin to carry mail between Kokomo and Marion and Chicago and Detroit.

Allegheny Airline, which now provides service between Kokomo and Marion and Chicago, has filed for suspension of service to the two Indiana cities and named Air Wisconsin as replacement service in its petition.

Air Wisconsin's petition to carry mail would become effective when Allegheny suspends service.

The Appleton-based commuter airline has been serving Kokomo since April 27 of this year and will start serving Marion Oct. 1.

The Housing Authority met Tuesday evening at the city hall to discuss sites to be considered. A final selection will be made within a short time.

Members of the Housing Authority, in addition to the chairman, are Kenneth Luebke, George Graff, Gerald Dieck and Eugene Dexter.

Teen-Agers Hospitalized for Apparent Overdose of Pills

Appleton detectives Wednesday were still trying to piece together events that led to two teen-agers being taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment of apparent pill overdoses Tuesday night and early this morning.

Police began their investigation about 8:40 p.m., after the fire department rescue squad took a 16-year-old boy from a N. Drew Street home.

The detectives said they believed the boy took four or five pills that had been prescribed for him upon his release from a hospital Tuesday morning.

Police were called back to the Drew Street house about 12:30 a.m. when a 15-year-old girl reportedly passed out from what was believed to have been
